care wards

WARD 1 REPORT

This past quarter has seen more people involved in the life of Ward 1 activity. From a one-family oriented stronghold the group has expanded to include persons from the peripheral regions of the ward.

The Hello Neighbor Day event served to break-loose a consciousness of care and catalyzed greater involvement and commitment. The mini-park continued to be a focal point of community interest and catalyzed new concerns for care.

Future strategy is to include all 5 stakes in ward activity.

WARD 2 REPORT

Ward 2 began the quarter with a core group meeting at 4826 N. Sheridan. By moving the ward meetings between this location and Winthrop Towers twice as many people have been in attendance. This move allowed ward formation to develop around the focus of peoples passion and concern which was the deterioration of property and litter covered lots along Winthrop.

Hello Neighbor Day was key in developing ward consciousness and need, and breaking loose stake penetration.

Creating the mini-park in the vacant lot across from Winthrop Towers focused on specific concerns and created a concrete sign of possibility in the midst of what was previously a desert.

WARD 3 REPORT

Ward 3 began the quarter with a small core of concerned people who has met regularly for over a year. The mass visitation day broke loose a larger and more representative group.

The painting of the Winthrop playground was a significant happening and which created a solid sign of the possibility of neighborhood cooperation and work. Although there are still a few holes, a steady network of concerned leaders is developing and assuming responsibility.

Systematic visitation and expanded projects should overcome present spotiness and enable the present expansion to continue.

WARD 4 REPORT

The journey of Ward 4 in quarter II in 1975 has been from a group of curious elders to an increasingly disciplined body whose ages range from 14 to 84 years. Ward meetings have been established with an average attendance of 18 people. Several persons from the ward have engaged in regular neighborhood visiting. The catalytic power of this group has been demonstrated when their work to clean Sheridan Road and a vacant lot stimulated many others to clean their property.

The key within Ward 4 has been the regularity of Ward meetings. Ward 4 now faces the possibility of engaging the spanish speaking population, extending its program of regular visitation and beginning to work within the several high-rise buildings.

WARD 5 REPORT

Ward 5 began quarter II faced with the need to rebuild the contacts and structures of engagement. During this quarter a small group of residents have begun this process through regular ward meetings held in two different apartments in 920 Lakeside.

One key event in the life of the ward was the Miracle Day when residents of the ward cleaned up the large lot next to Peoples Church and laid bricks on the muddy corner of Sheridan and Lakeside.

The task presently facing Ward 5 is broadening the base of participation through larger group of contacts and a way to tie the ward together after the middle school has taken out large segments of the ward.

WARD CARE NETWORK PROPOSALS

The Ward Care Network PROPOSES THAT:

1. a way for each ward to create a mechanism for ongoing care of ward projects be developed.
2. that the wards build a battleplan to further develop and expand the effectiveness of the Uptown 5 care network to include the concerns of the community such as personal security, jobs, and vacant lot use.
