This is Christmas '68 glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, to men of good will

The Ecumenical Institute: Chicago

bright and morning star shines once more
across the scopes of time and heralds anew the deeps of man yearning to explode spirit, long in search of mode finds again religious form forged within a global frame from the womb of now itself answering to the deepest need dark descends into the me harsh demands from ages yet to come quivering urges, God to love beckon and compel us everyone to contemplate, to meditate and pray piety reclaimed, transformed born anew, clean, and true to man as if never known before designed alone for this hour of science, city and the secular from the fire of this shall spring just as sure as death is time a social carriage, wide and strong that proclaims, demands, defends the sacredness of everyman shaped on tablets of the law scribed in conscience everywhere that all the earth belongs to all nothing less and no one less than every people God has made all the goods that nature bears each decision time requires every form of humanness are not for some but everyone for all is owned by all mankind

exploding into here.
