VEHICLE OR COMPREHENSIVE IMPLICATIONS FOR SUMMER 71.

I

The inclusive imbalance of the social process is the tyranny of the Economic over the cultural dynamic and it's rendering of the Political dynamic impotent. The solution is the recovery of the cultural dynamic which empowers the political which presses against the Economic.

The attention must therefore be centered on the cultural first of all beginning with an analysis of its internal imbalance. Here it is a matter of the educational tyrannizing over the symbolic dynamic and rendering style impotent. Since the regression must be stopped here because the real issue is constraining the economic dynamic the issue is the empowerment of style to constrain the Educational dynamic which will enable the cultural to regain enough health to empower the Political.

The beginning of the empowerment of Style is a minor recovery of symbols at least a recognition and acknowledgment of the vacuity of adequate symbols. The second step is to understand the existing imbalance in the Educational dynamic which is the tyranny of Technical Knowledge over Final Meaning and the rendering impotent of Human Wisdom.

The restoration of the balance in the Cultural dynamic then is the empowering of Style which stress Final Meaning which empowers Human Wisdom to constrain Technical Knowledge which allows the development of symbols bringing balance to the cultural enabling it to empower the political.

There is one more step that is the interior maladjustment of Style. Here the procreation dynamic tyrannizes over the Primal Community and weakens the Life Phases. Hence Life Phases must be emphasized to empower Primal Community which will release Primal Community from bondage and thus establish the balance in Style. Within Procreation the Nuclear Family is the tyrant. Hence to redo the family, develop the Cyclical Roles and stress Primal Community (or Style) is the key point in recovering balance in the Social Process.

II

The Style dynamic then is the strategic key to re-balancing the total Social Process. This means first that the family and the roles of male and female must be reconstructed and demonstrated. Second that Life Phases and the Missional Thrusts that defines them must be re-delineated and demonstrated. Third that a new sense of community or social engagement must be re-covered and demonstrated. This activity will bring a new balance into the Educational dynamic by necessitating emphases on Final Meanings which will re-quicken Human Wisdom which in turn shall delimit the role of Technical Knowledge. This re-balancing will liberate the Symbolic dynamic which means the internal relative rebalancing of the Cultural process, enabling it to enlighten and enliven the political for the sake of reducing the influence of the Economic.
