STORY

North Jackson's Town Meeting
October 23, 1976

JACKSON - OUR PAST HISTORY, OUR PRESENT ACCOMPLISHMENTS, AND OUR FUTURE GOALS

Coming from swamps, then to plantations, down to Chimneyville; from an out-of-the-way place to the distribution center of the Deep south - Jackson has made it. We have come, seen, and conquered. We couldn't have done this without the skill and determination of our citizens, for we, in time of need, have pulled ourselves up by our own strength. We have given aid to disaster stricken parts of our own state, nation, and other nations. Yes, Jackson has done it. We've come this far against insurmountable odds and truly set an example to the state and the nation. No, we're not perfect, and never will be-but, baby, we've come a long, long way.

We are progressing, producing and prospering. We believe in ourselves. We can do it - We are doing it. We believe in the way we are growing and we refuse to trip over ourselves as most other metropolitan areas have.

Our future dreams are pure and simple - to stand proud, sheer and upright, rid of our struggles. We will sit back, looking at the mighty old oaks among the sky-scrappers, and take it all in.

Our dream as a community is to expose future generations to the VERY BEST we have to offer, develop an environment into a garden of which God Himself would be proud, challenge one another to strive to reach his potential, and BEST OF ALL - TO NEVER STOP DREAMING!

OUT OF THE ASHES

One day out of the ashes
Jackson was rebuilt
Now its coming together
In harmony, not in guilt

Black, white, yellow together
A future greater than the past
Transcending all fears and sorrows
With a vision destined to last

Bless our capitol city
The future belonging to all Fullfillment of the community
Everyone standing tall

Tune - Somewhere Over the Rainbow

INVOLVEMENT IN ECONOMIC DECISIONS

In the arena of human resources

the following blocks, lack of planning the decision making process is closed to the public racial discrimination lack of money

indicate the underlying contradiction of a lack of knowledge of what is happening and a failure to act when we do learn.

Local illustrations in Jackson are: the bridge in north Jackson for no useful purpose
the housing project built by Hinds County hospital sitting empty City of Jackson for years refusing to build public housing churches sitting empty during the week

ECONOMIC ISSUES

In the arena of economic impact of government

the following blocks, government monetary policies income of wage earners has not kept pace lack of compulsory education law lack of funding/planning for future growth legislative blocks (by laws & industrial influence) ignorance of benefits & availability of services

indicate the underlying contradiction of the feeling that big government is remote to the average citizen; inaccessability to actual power as source for means of change.

This is illustrated by: traffic problems and the form of city government restricts citizen input; asphalt plant pollution on Hwy. 51N (Ridgeland), entire sewer/drainage system, and cancellation of public transportation routes.

ECONOMIC CHALLENGES

North Jackson's Town Meeting
October 23, 1976

IMPROVEMENT FOR BETTER GOVERNMENT & COMMUNITY

In the Arena of economic commonality

the following blocks, matching Federal Funds sources of funding
special interest & community involvement education & vocational training, no incentives for new business

indicate that the underlying contradiction is social reform.

This is illustrated by: move to change the form of Civic Government street improvement bonds
low income housing

LACK OF JOBS

In the Arena of Economics, lack of jobs and industry

the fact that the slow adjustment from agriculture to industry indicates that the underlying contradiction is lack of technical and vocational training in some and apathy in others.

This is illustrated by: high unemployment high delinquency and crime rates

POLITICAL CHALLENGES

North Jackson's Town Meetins
Oct. 23, 1976

FOR THE WELFARE OF THE PEOPLE

In the Arena of Politics

the following blocks, housing property assessment
equality of jobs
ethics of government

indicate that the underlying contradiction is leadership in government

This is illustrated by the fact that no communication takes place at the local level.

SOCIAL POLITICS

In the Arena of Political Commonality

The following blocks, citizen apathy understanding of benefits of a new form of Municipal government and lack of respect for the senior citizens skills, knowledge and housing accommodations

Indicate that the underlying Contradiction is the leadership is satisfied with the satus quo and people concerned with their own welfare.

This is illustrated by lack of the legislature to pass a mandatory education law.

VOTING, HIRING AND PAY

In the Arena of Political (voting, pay and hiring equality) the following blocks, unawareness of legislation & programs of action.

indicate the underlying contradiction non-exposure to and participation in political issues.

This is illustrated by the number of people that didn't show up for the "town meeting"
People won't participate but will criticize what "others" do.

LOSS OF INDIVIDUAL IDENTITY

In the Arena of political commonality

the fact that there has been an increase in crime indifference to problems by citizens lack of knowledge as to how to use the system to solve problems
lack of local representation indicate the underlying contradiction of a loss of individual identity and worth.

This is illustrated by the fact that problems have existed for a long time and nothing has been done.

POLITICAL CHALLENGES COND.

In the Arena of political commonality

the following blecks, people think that schools "aren't good enough" intergration scares people people are not directly represented by city officials

indicate the underlying contradiction of lack of proper information

This is illustrated by bad quality of schools, poor attendance at public schools, and the mayor and council form of government petition.

This is illustrated by

We believe that a return to Bible Doctrine in a deciding factor in our day-to-day activities and decisions is the first step to solving all of the social, economic and political ills we have discussed at this meeting.

The individual separated from the system

In the Arena of Social-economic problems of society

the fact that there is an inadequate understanding of the process of involving oneself in local government, and that there is a lack of organization among civic, cultural and social groups, and that available services are utilized by a few people, and that there has been a breakdown in standards.

This is illustrated by inconvenience of paying a utility bill or having utilities connected, loss of esteem within the community of the public schools, buildings which do not provide for the handicapped, an unawareness by citizens of what steps can be taken in getting a problem solved.

Cultural Commonality

In the Arena of Cultural Commonality

the following blocks

1. Lenient Courts
2. Need to Motivate
3. Better Publicity
4. Better Publicity of what is available
5. Promotion of what of what is available
6. Private kindergarten are preferred in N. Jackson indicated the underlying contradiction- we are crises oriented. we have to be stirred up before we act.

This is illustrated by

1. Defecting of the Sears shopping Mall (where Wills Stadium is now)
2. Defeating of the sale of City park land to private business.

Childrens Town Meeting

First we made name tags and got acquainted over donuts from Shipley's and orange juice provided by McDonalds. At 10:00 sharp our magician, Mr. John Bewley from Broadmor Baptist Church began an hour of magic, juggling, and comedy that set a good mood for the balance of the day.

We then had play time until lunch, munching on lots of popcorn. After a good lunch and a little more free time, we had our Mini Town Meeting. At this time we discussed the Economic, cultural, and political aspects of our community and what it meant to us. After a short break, Representative Dick Hall gave a short but impressive talk about politics and the what and whys of our government.

After another play period, we closed with a discussion of what we had done, what we remembered most about the day and what we could do for our community in the days to come.
