

MALIWADA GOLDEN JUBILEE

January 26th 1975 – January 26th 2026

Golden Jubilee of 'Project Maliwada'

Foreign guests return to the village; villagers are overwhelmed with old memories

Maliwada, T. 1 (Reporter)
: The historic 'Project Maliwada', implemented in the year 1975 through the Institute of Cultural Affairs India (ICA), completed 50 years this year. Foreign volunteers from four continents once again arrived at Maliwada for the golden jubilee organized on this occasion. The villagers gave a grand welcome to their 'foreign guests' with the sound of drums and cymbals, a procession of lezim and a shower of flowers.

When this project started in 1975, the village lacked electricity, roads and health facilities. The health of women and children was at risk due to lack of sanitation. In such a situation, the villagers collectively raised funds

Village girls welcoming foreign guests at Maliwada.

Chokha Baba Sathe spread his pagodes and collected donations and in just five days, the funds were raised and electricity flowed to the village for the first time on 26th January 1975. During this period, foreign volunteers helped 4-5

After living in the village for years, he built a network of education banks, post offices, schools and small industries. Meanwhile, the contributions of Vinod Parekh, Shankar Deokar, Dhondiram Jagadhne, Gautam Gosavi, Hiranman Gavai remained valuable in this project. Sarpanch

Jyoti Mule, Deputy Sarpanch Manish Gajare, Police Patil Pramod Sathe, and Gram Panchayat members planned the ceremony meticulously.

Emotional knot of names

A touching memory was shared during the program. Impressed by the service of Shankar Devkar and Dhondiram Jagadhne of Maliwada, a foreign couple named their twin sons 'Shankar' and 'Dhondiram'. Hearing this memory, the villagers present were moved to tears. The guests were divided into six groups and inspected the changes in the village and enjoyed a Maharashtrian Puranpoli meal.

Golden Jubilee of 'Project Maliwada'

Foreign guests return to the village; villagers are overwhelmed with old memories

Maliwada, T. 1 (Reporter)
: The historic 'Project Maliwada', implemented in the year 1975 through the Institute of Cultural Affairs India (ICA), completed 50 years this year. Foreign volunteers from four continents once again arrived at Maliwada for the golden jubilee organized on this occasion. The villagers gave a grand welcome to their 'foreign guests' with the sound of drums and cymbals, a procession of lezim and a shower of flowers.

When this project started in 1975, the village lacked electricity, roads and health facilities. The health of women and children was at risk due to lack of sanitation. In such a situation, the villagers collectively raised funds

Village girls welcoming foreign guests at Maliwada.

Chokha Baba Sathe spread his pagodes and collected donations and in just five days, the funds were raised and electricity flowed to the village for the first time on 26th January 1975. During this period, foreign volunteers helped 4-5

After living in the village for years, he built a network of education banks, post offices, schools and small industries. Meanwhile, the contributions of Vinod Parekh, Shankar Deokar, Dhondiram Jagadhne, Gautam Gosavi, Hiranman Gawai remained valuable in this project. Sarpanch

Jyoti Mule, Deputy Sarpanch Manish Gajare, Police Patil Pramod Sathe, and Gram Panchayat members planned the ceremony meticulously.

Emotional knot of names

A touching memory was shared during the program. Impressed by the service of Shankar Devkar and Dhondiram Jagadhne of Maliwada, a foreign couple named their twin sons 'Shankar' and 'Dhondiram'. Hearing this memory, the villagers present were moved to tears. The guests were divided into six groups and inspected the changes in the village and enjoyed a Maharashtrian Puranpoli meal.