

Vernod Parect-Vinod Parect- Second plenary- Congregation D Research Report

I don't know why Charles always calls upon me to report for our guild...

Aware of the fact that

I am nervous enough, terribly nervous and never been a strong never like that clown, Bob Fishel. I happened to attend his wedding nine years ago he had his ninth wedding anniversary last week. And after Bob and Judy were pronounced man and wife, the priest told Bob, Now you can kiss Mrs. Fishel.

Bob promptly ran to the first pew in the church and kissed his mother.

Always Bob has impacted my life. A clown like him.....

decides to be a revolutionary I decide why can't I.

Let me deliver to you greetings to you from India. I bring them in my language
damastay,

say that after me....

Some of the most exciting moments of my life I have spent here in the Ecumenical

Institute here. Especially working in our congregation. Never before did I feel so convinced that, convinced that what are, what is it that we are here for, what is it that we want to achieve. And working on the Ecumenical Parish some of the visions that came to me and I sense that all my colleagues in my congregation agree with me are those that will make local man in the Ecumenical Parish a real radical revolutionary. No longer ^{need} can we experience that our civilization is doomed to extinction as the others have been in the past, rather we need to be afraid to respond to the cries of those who suffer by.....

the thought of the Ecumenical Parish has got that vision. that all the tension all the frustration, all the utter confusion that we find ourselves in the midst of ^{will be wiped out} the goal of the with the lights out is all the Ecumenical Parish these things is about that confidence according to me ever revolutionary I believe that one man exists

for the other man. that one man dies for the other man. And then that intensifies the tension between the local and the global situation. And the Ecumenical Parish will constantly remind us of the fact that it is indivisibly related to a global citizenship, and that all the parochialisms shattered by the event of the Ecumenical Parish. I believe that in this very ecumenical parish every local awakened man will transform the entire world

Parect page 3

building fifth cities all over the world,

that we worked in in our congregation infused

in all of us that spirit that breathes in the Ecumenical Parish are the people who can change the world, and that Ecumenical Parish, the functioning of the

Ecumenical Parish will certainly bring about a contagious not only a society

not only community that you live in but all over the place

I also believe that looking at us revolutionaries in the time that we live

other will be able to recognize the fact that everybody exists for everybody and everybody dies for everybody. Let us now offer our documents

3. 1. 1. 4
Vernod Parect-Vinod Parect- Second plenary- Congregation D Research Report

I don't know why Charles always calls upon me to report for our guild...

Aware of the fact that

I am nervous enough, terribly nervous and never been a strong never like

that clown, Bob Fishel. I happened to attend his wedding nine years ago he had his ninth wedding anniversary last week. And after Bob and Judy were pronounced man and wife, the priest told Bob, Now you can kiss Mrs. Fishel.

Bob promptly ran to the first pew in the church and kissed his mother.

Always Bob has impacted my life. A clown like him.....

decides to be a revolutionary I decide why can't I.

Let me deliver to you greetings to you from India. I bring them in my language
damastay,

say that after me....

Some of the most exciting moments of my life I have spent here in the Ecumenical

Institute here. Especially working in our congregation. Never before did I feel

so convinced that, convinced that what are, what is it that we are here for,

what is it that we want to achieve. And working on the Ecumenical Parish some of the visions that came to me and I sense that all my colleagues in my congregation agree with me are those that will make local man in the Ecumenical Parish a real radical revolutionary. No longer can we experience that our civilization is doomed to extinction as the others have been in the past, rather we need to be afraid to respond to the cries of those who suffer by.....

the thought of the Ecumenical Parish has got that vision, that all the tension all the frustration, all the utter confusion that we find ourselves in the midst of with the lights out the goal of the Ecumenical Parish these things is about that confidence according to me ever revolutionary I believe that one man exists for the other man, that one man dies for the other man. And then that intensifies the tension between the local and the global situation. And the Ecumenical Parish will constantly remind us of the fact that it is indivisibly related to a global citizenship, and that all the parochialism is shattered by the event of the Ecumenical Parish. I believe that in this very ecumenical parish every local awakened man will transform the entire world

Parent page 3

building fifth cities all over the world,

that we worked in in our congregation infused

in all of us that spirit that breathes in the Ecumenical Parish are the people who

can change the world, and that Ecumenical Parish, the functioning of the

Ecumenical Parish will certainly bring about a contagious not only a society

not only community that you live in but all over the place

I also believe that looking at us revolutionaries in the time that we live

others will be able to recognize the fact that everybody exists for everybody and everybody dies for everybody. Let us now offer our documents